DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's amendment filed August 21, 2002 (Paper Number 12) has been received and entered. Consequently claims 59, 61-70, and 72-74 are pending in the instant application.

Claim Objections

1. The objection of Claims 70 and 72-74 are objected to because of reciting non-elected inventions is withdrawn in view of Applicant's amendment.

Specification

2. The objection of the amendment filed January 7, 2000 under 35 U.S.C. 132 because it introduces new matter into the disclosure is maintained. 35 U.S.C. 132 states that no amendment shall introduce new matter into the disclosure of the invention. The added material which is not supported by the original disclosure is as follows:

Applicant's have amended the sequence in Figure 5 to recite a new nucleotide sequence at positions 540 and 630, and have further changed the resulting amino acid at the position corresponding to site 630 of the nucleic acid sequence. Each of these changes are deemed new matter.

Applicant's are asserting that this application is a continuation of 08/467,960, filed June 6, 1995, which is a division of application number 08/001,554 filed January 6, 1993, and that this application further claims priority from GB 9200117.1. Applicant's assert that Figure 5 of the priority GB application shows the nucleotide and derived amino acid sequence for the RSV F gene in its correct version. Applicant's further assert that Applicant's GenBank submission of the RSV F gene in September 1993 of the correct sequence, provides further evidence that the sequence recited in the instantly filed application was merely a typographical error.

Applicant's arguments have been fully considered but are not found to be fully persuasive.

Applicant's arguments are not found to be fully persuasive in view of MPEP 608, which sets forth that "All amendments or claims must find descriptive basis in the original disclosure, or they involve new matter. Applicant may rely for disclosure upon the specification with original claims and drawings, as filed." No provision is made for foreign priority documents or submissions to GenBank.

Consequently, the objection to the specification is maintained for reasons of record.

Claims 59, 61-70 and 72-74 are allowed.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for response to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the date of this action. In the event a first response is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event will the statutory period for response expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
